This sum she reinvested in real estate, and continued as money came into her possession to buy property in this city and in Brooklys. It is believed that she never blundered in her investments.

Mis. Gloucester's energy and executive ability were praised by all men who had any dealings with her. She was a member of the St. Mary's Street Pre-byterian church in Philadelphia from girlbood, and never severed her connection with it. Her gifts to small churches in the South were large and numerous. She was foremost in the late civil war in raising money for freedom by organizing fairs.

All Indian Execution.

Salt Lake special: Mr. Springer, just from Rate Valley, gives an account of a horrible effair among the Shoshone Indians. One of their number got mad at his equaw and killed her in a cruel and horrid manner. He first broke her arms and legs, and then, while still alive, covered her up in a grave. The members of the tribe concluded to fix him, which they did by taking him out among some trees, tying his hands beained him, then tying his feet together, they took a strong cord and jied his fest to a tree, the Indian lyong was then placed around his neck with a single loop, the ends extending out on either gle loop, the ends extending out on either side. A number of big, strong bucks took hold of the rope eads, and with a strong and steady pull they choked the murderer until he became a good Indian. They then wert away sati fied with their work.

BALTIMORE, August 13 .- The grand jury BALTIMORE, August 13.—The grand jury presented all the members of the late commission of the Fire Department for malfessance in office. The Board consisted of Mayor Whyte, exofice president, and Samuel W. Regester, Thomas W. Campbell, J. Frank Morrisco, Samuel Hanna, Bartholemew E. Smith and Charles B. Slingluff. Bail was fixed at $3000 in each case. The presentment caused great excitement and astonishment about the City Hell and courthouse. The late Board was superseded recently by the appointment of a fire marshal, and the Morrisco, Samuel Hanna, Bartholemew E. Smith and Charles B. Slingluff. Bail was fixed at $3000 in each case. The presentment caused great excitement and astonishment about the City H-ll and courthouse. The late Board was superseded recently by the appointment of a fire marshal, and the presentments grew out of charges made by the present fire marshal against several members of the Board, charging them with furnishing various supplies to the department and charging more than the market rates therefor in violation of the city ordinances.

DUBUQUE, IA., August 13 .- The wife of DUBUQUE, I.A., August 13.—The wife of United States Senator Allison committed suicide by drowning herself in the Mississippi river some time during last night. She left home vesterday afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock, informing her servant that she was going to one of the near neighbors. Instead, however, taking her gossamer under her arm, she went in an opposite direction toward the country, where she has been accurate to take almost daily a walk. It was ascertained that she wandered around in the outskirs of the city National Bank. The books were found to be correct, and enough is known to justify the statement that depositors will be fully paid, though it may be a month before payment begins. Rumors of uneasiness at the Peoples National Bank are declared to be wholly unfounded, and the excitement has died out.

The coward that did the shooting waited until he had gained the inclosure, and when his back was turned fired a lead into his head from a shotgun, which produced instant death. His body was not discovered or the shooting known until the next morning. He was a respected and honored citizen of the county; no man stood higher and had more friends or fewer enemies than he. There is no clew to the perpetrator. Great indignation prevails in the community, and no stone will be left unturned to ferret out the guilty party; if found lynch law will undoubtedly be resorted to. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above.

A Mintster's Solcide. was broken off. This is the only affair of which her parents are cognizant. The girl was possessed of marked musical talent and has manifested a desire to go upon the concert opera stage. The ciscumstances of the case are very mysterions, and her friends are fearful she may have been decrived and overtaken by some ill Iste. The family is well consected in St. Louis and Chicago, and the matter has thus far been kept secret.
